

A NOTE FROM CLINTON...

“And in Him... You too...are being Built Together...”

Dear Members and Friends:

It's been nearly one year since (last May) we commended our old Sanctuary into the hands of the Lord who gave it. Ringing those hallowed brick walls like living stones ourselves, we sang our praises as the Cross was reverently carried to Lehman Hall, our new gathering place for worship.

Many of you have commented to me on how surprised you were that Lehman Hall would serve so well. We can thank the foresight of the Facilities Steering Committee for that—but much more the Lord who promises to be present—and to give us His Spirit—wherever “two or three are gathered” in His name.

Lehman Hall has served Knox superbly during this year of transition. And yet, its seating capacity has fallen short at precisely those times when the old Sanctuary proved too small as well.

But that is all about to change...

On Sunday June 1, at 10:30 a.m., the people of Knox will gather once more to sing our praises and joyfully dedicate a lovely new Sanctuary to the Lord who gave it. And on this Sunday, there will be room for all who come.

This First of June, let's “Come and See what God has done!” (Ps. 34). Let's come in gratitude for all who've done so much to bring us here. Let's come to thank our God for giving us all we need to make room for others, to reach out and become an Invitational church. Let's come and we'll ring the walls of this new Sanctuary with our own bodies—with our joyfully-renewed commitment to be the Body of Christ.

Because it's not about the building: it's about you—all of you—being “built together” by Christ to become yourselves a beautiful sanctuary for His Spirit—a people in whom God lives.

With joy,
